COUNT WITTE TODAY OFFERED TO RESIGN

The Czar Became Angry and Refused It---Financial Panic Begins.

St. Petersburg, via Eydtkuhnen, Dec. 8.—Count Witte, who only a short time ago assumed the position of premier of the Russian Empire, today headed the czar his letter of resignation.

A sensational scene ensued, the czar, after reading the document tore it into pieces and flung them at Witte's feet, exclaiming angrily: "Are you such a poor patriot as to desert me in my hour of misfortune? Remain in office until I see fit to relieve you."

The emperor then turned sharply, and left Count Witte standing in the middle of the reception chamber.

The situation at Kieff is described as being an extremely serious one. Some accounts say that a massacre has taken place in which 1,500 persons were killed.

Financial Panic Begins.

St. Petersburg, Dec. 8.—The financial crisis which must inevitably overtake the country is beginning. These banks have suspended payment because of the impossibility of obtaining assistance to meet the runs started on them, and many cases of bankruptcy of industrial firms are reported from the provinces.

Another Garrison Rebels.

St. Petersburg, Dec. 8.—A serious mutiny has occurred at Lonska. Troops rebelled and fired the barracks and attacked the officers. The mutineers are now in control of the town.

Public sentiment is being directed more and more against Premier Witte, and his immediate resignation is being demanded.

No. 8 the fast New Orleans-Chicago train has new schedule changed and patrons will no longer connect for Chicago at Cairo but will have to leave Paducah at 4:20 p. m. and catch the train at Carbondale where direct connections are made with the fast train.

CLINT HOLLAND.

Former Resident of Paducah Dies in Benton.

After a long illness Clint Holland, a well known young man of Benton, died at 10:25 o'clock last night. The direct cause of his death was dropsy and heart trouble.

Mr. Holland until a few months ago lived in Paducah. He conducted a wagon yard on Third between Kentucky and Washington streets. He was a son of the late Judge W. A. Holland, of Benton. His wife, who survives him, is a daughter of Judge Fisher. A child also is left by him, his mother, and a brother, Mr. Erskine Holland, of Memphis. He was about 30 years old.

The remains were buried at 2 o'clock this afternoon at Benton.

SENATOR MITCHELL DEAD.

Had a Tooth Pulled and Died.

Portland, Ore., Dec. 8.—United States Senator Mitchell died this afternoon. He was last night moved to a hospital following the extraction of a tooth which caused him considerable loss of blood, and finally death.

Circuit Judge Reed Renders Important Decision in Home Purchasing Cases

Circuit Judge W. M. Reed today sustained a demurrer to the indictment against H. H. Loving, an officer in the Home Purchasing company, charging him with doing business in the state without a license, thus practically quashing the indictment. The demurrer alleged that the law did not hold a substantial officer of a company or concern guilty in such cases unless it were averred and proven that he did issue contracts.

MRS. GUS COUTLER

Alleged to Have Recovered Diamond Ring Through Mind Reader.

A woman entertainer has been given performances or exhibitions for the past three weeks in Louisville and New Albany, and according to the papers, whose articles smacked very much of the press agency work she does some wonderful things.

The following story is from yesterday's Mayfield Monitor, and is given for what it is worth:

Mrs. Gus Coutler is in Louisville consulting Anna Eva Fay, the mysterious woman reader.

On last Tuesday while preparing to attend the Woman's club meeting, Mrs. Coutler suddenly missed her finest diamond ring, valued at $400.

The house has been thoroughly gone over, but the diamond could not be found, so M. A. Coutler decided to go to Louisville and consult this medium.

LATER—Mrs. Coutler today telegraphed from Louisville the result of her interview with Anna Eva Fay.

The latter told Mrs. Coutler that the ring was in the bath room on the floor. Upon receiving this word Mr. Coutler went to the bath room and there found the diamond. Mrs. Coutler will return at once.

INSTALL TONIGHT.

Beavers Dam Will Be Built—About 100 to Be Charter Members.

The long-talked-of Beaver Dam will be built tonight in the Elks hall, and more than one hundred of Paducah's leading citizens will be given a chance to become "beavers." The organizers, Mr. Tripp and Mr. English, deserve great credit for the membership they have secured, and it goes without saying that these two gentlemen know their business when it comes to "dam building."

Shipped to New York.

The body of Dennis O'Connor, who died on his pleasure gasoline launch at the foot of Elizabeth street two days ago, was shipped to New York City today at noon for interment. A telegram was received from a brother of the deceased last night directing the disposition of the body. The two brothers who started on a tour with the launch, were without funds. It is said, and were waiting for a communication from their brother in New York.

Silver Wedding Anniversary.

Invitations have been received here to the silver wedding anniversary of Rev. and Mrs. E. B. Ramsey, formerly of this city, but now of Memphis, Tenn., on December 21, at 8 p. m. at their home, 1293 Monroe street, Memphis. The invitations are pretty gotten up in silver and have the dates 1880-1905. Edward B. Ramsey and Julia Steel. The popular couple have a host of friends here to give them good wishes.

Hopkinsville Newspaper Change.

Hopkinsville, Ky., Dec. 8.—C. D. Graves, of Harvey, Ill., has leased the Hopkinsville Messenger, Republican, organ of Christian county, and will take possession January 1. The plant is owned by Curtis A. Brasher. Ed Lawson, who has been running the paper for several months, is in bad health and will retire from newspaper work at least for the present.

Came to See His Daughters.

Mr. Thomas F. Shay, of Cincinnati, O., is here to visit his daughters, Miss Rosa Cecilia Shay, who will sing "Paul Jones" tonight. Mr. Shay has been to St. Louis on business and not having seen his daughter for sometime he came here on his way home. He is a guest at the Palmer house.

You can't take the pride out of some people even by seeing them slip down on the ice.

This was not alleged in the Lovig indictment, and Judge Reed accordingly sustained the demurrer. The decision means that all the indictments against officers and directors of the Home Purchasing company, who were indicted for doing business without a license, will be quashed in the same way if the court of appeals sustains Judge Reed in his decision today. An appeal, it is understood, will be taken.

NO CONTRACT

Awarded for the Lease of Eddyville Convict Labor.

Frankfort, Ky., Dec. 8.—After some difficulty in getting all the members of the state prison commission together for the purpose of opening bids for the hire of convicts employed in the broom factory in Eddyville penitentiary, it was found that there was a misunderstanding and all the bids received were rejected. One of the bidders, the Myers-Bridges Co., of Louisville, bid 50 cents per man a day for the making of brooms, while Norman & Hubbard of Mayfield, bid 60 cents per man a day for the manufacture of brooms. The commission decided that as the advertisement for the bids was rather vague, it would best to call for new bids. These new bids will be opened on December 20.

The contract which the Myers-Bridges company has with the state for working 75 to 100 men in the broom department of the Eddyville penitentiary expires in February.

$30,000 ASKED For the Death of Malcolm Greenleaf, the Street Car Conductor Who Was Killed.

J. P. Pierce, administrator of Malcolm Greenleaf, who was fatally injured at First and Broadway, November 18th when he was caught between two cars and his right leg crushed, today filed suit against the Paducah Traction Co., for $30,000 damages for the death of the deceased.

He alleges that the young man died from the injuries sustained in the accident which was due, the petition states, to the negligence of employees of the company and to defective machinery about the car.

William George McCloskey, Bishop of Louisville, assisted by some eight or ten visiting clergymen. The sermon was delivered by the Rev. Joseph Haggarty, of Lebanon.

A blaze in the bathroom at Frank Just's home on North Sixth did about $100 damage yesterday afternoon late. The fire department prevented a spread of the flames to other parts of the house. The property is between Harrison and Clay and is owned by Railroad Commissioner Mac D. Ferguson.

FOUND DEAD

WILLIAM NOLAN, COLORED,
DIED DURING NIGHT.

He Complained of Asthma and the Coroner's Jury Said Death Was
From Natural Causes.

William Nolan, colored, age about 30, was found dead in bed this morning at his residence, 431 South Seventh street. He had been complaining of attacks of asthma and it is presumed the disease caused his death while he slept.

The deceased was employed at the Andy Wadkins Undertaking establishment on South Seventh street, as hostler and was born and raised here. He slept in a room with two companions. One, who works at the St. Bernard docks, gets up first. He arose as usual about 6:30 and when dressed called to the others.

Nolan failed to respond and an examination showed him to be dead. The companion who found him dead remembered last night on retiring that Nolan complained of asthma and asked for something that would relieve him.

Coroner Charles Crow held an inquest this morning, the verdict being that Nolan came to his death from natural causes. The deceased leaves a sister in Paducah, she being his only relative.

The remains will be buried tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, services at Burk's Chapel, interment at Oak Grove.

SEVERAL BILLS HAVE BEEN FILED

Among Them is One Regulating the Admission of Immigrants.

A Penny Postage Bill Introduced by Congressman Smith, of Illinois.

OTHER MEASURES OFFERED.

Washington, Dec. 8.—Among bills introduced in congress were in the senate—to amend the act to regulate the immigration of aliens. It included the measure familiarly known as the educational test introduced two years ago.

Providing the death penalty for an assassin of the president, vice-president or any ambassador or minister of a foreign country to the United States. Also provides a sentence of not less than 10 years for attempts at assassination of these officials.

In the house: By Jenkins (Wisconsin) extending all United States extradition laws to the Philippines.

Murlock (Kansas) creating a commission of five senators and five representatives to investigate railway capitalization.

Shackelford (Missouri) to publishing papers and wood pulp on the free list.

Smith (Illinois) For one-cent letter postage.

Copper (Wisconsin) Setting aside forty per cent. of the money realized from land sales in the Philippines for school purposes in the islands.

The subject of campaign contributions by insurance companies occupied the major portion of the time of the senate. It came up in connection with Tillman's resolution calling for an investigation of national banks' aid in politics and was explored by the South Carolina senator in a speech of some length. The address dealt with the president's recommendations for the punishment of bribery in elections with Senator Platt's testimony for the New York investigating committee and with various other pertinent matters. It was couched in characteristic language and attracted considerable attention. The resolution directing the secretary of the treasury to report whether the reports of national examiners show that the banks have made campaign contributions in recent years was adopted at the close of Tillman's remarks.

An appropriation of $11,000,000 was voted toward the consideration of the Panama canal. The amount was a compromise between $16,500,000 carried in the bill under consideration and an estimate of something over $6,000,000 recommended by Williams, the democratic leader, to carry on the work until the middle of January. Hepburn in charge of the bill suggested something over $11,000,000 would carry on the work until March.

Williams offered several unsuccessful amendments all seeking to abandon the policy of issuing bonds for canal work on the grounds there is sufficient available funds in the treasury to meet all needed demands for canal work. Overstreet did not succeed in amending the bill so that $10,000,000 already expended in canal construction might be refunded to the treasury from the sale of the canal bonds.

EELS AND FLOUNDER.

Wedge in Hole in Ship's Hull and Prevent Her Sinking.

New York, Dec. 8.—Six eels and one large flounder became so tightly jammed in a hole that had been stove in the bottom of the Scandinavian liner Hellig Olaf, near Copenhagen on November 6, last that it was impossible for any more water to get into the hold of the ship until she was placed in dry dock at Helsingør the following day.

The fish were manded over to Capt. Holst after they had been removed from the hole, and the captain had them for breakfast the next day.

The Hellig Olaf arrived in port today and Capt. Holst told of the remarkable way in which the vessel had been saved.

Senator Files to Visit Paducah.

Letters from Hon. Samuel H. Piles, senator from the state of Washington, announces that he will probably visit Paducah a few days on his return from Washington, D. C., to Seattle, Wash., after congress adjourns. Mr. Piles formerly lived here and at Smithland, but has not been here for several years.

Caused a Tragedy.

New York, Dec. 8.—Alfred P. Frelich, a pharmacist in the Presbyterian hospital, shot and killed his wife Fannie and her mother Mrs. Anna Hoedgen, in his home in Brooklyn. He then surrendered himself. The doctor who examined the prisoner at the station house said he was suffering from nervous prostration.

MRS. ROGERS HANGED THIS AFTERNOON

Murderess Expiated Her Crime On the Gallows---Dead in 14 Minutes.

Windsor, Vt., Dec. 8.—Mrs. Mary Rogers was hanged in the Windsor state prison this afternoon. She was pronounced dead at 1:28, just 14 minutes after the trap was sprung. Without a trace of fear or show of emotion, Mrs. Rogers went to her death quietly and calmly as she had told Matron Durkee she would do. She made no statement or confession, when given an opportunity before the end came.

The march from the death cell began at six minutes past one. Mrs. Rogers had just concluded a short religious service with Father Delaney when these deputies appeared at the door.

She turned to Mrs. Durkee and said: "I'm ready to go, Mrs. Durkee thank you for what you have done for me." She bade the guards farewell, and walked firmly to the scaffold. The black gown and cap were adjusted, her limbs pinioned, the trap sprung, and the woman exhaled her crime. The execution was successful and without sensational incident, and was witnessed by but few people.

Mrs. Rogers killed her husband, Marcus Rogers, in order that she might possess herself of $600, the life insurance, and marry another man. The murder was committed in Bennington, on August 12, 1902, by the administration of chloroform.

Mary Rogers was deeply loved by her husband. Tiring of her life with this quiet, unpretentious man, she left him. In her unfortunate life that followed in Bennington she met a youth, barely 17 years old, by the name of Leon Perham, a half breed Indian, who became enamored of her. Perham wanted to marry her. Mrs. Rogers had no mind for that, but kept Perham dangling by her side.

Mrs. Rogers fell in love with a well known citizen of Bennington, who, however, was not aware of her passion for him. As a woman of the street she knew she could not win him, and in her simple way bethought that once in possession of her husband's $600 life insurance money she would become an object of devotion and attention. With the thought came the plan to do away with Rogers, whom she had left. Rogers, in spite of her life of shame, had oftentimes sent word to his wife to come to him and he would forgive and forget the past.

She wrote that she was ready to come back; wanted to come back and would he forgive her. Leon Perham turned state's evidence and on the stand he gave testimony, a recital such as has rarely been heard in the courts of law.

According to Perham Mrs. Rogers had written to her husband, from whom she was estranged, asking him to meet her at 9:30 at night.

After the meeting and pretended reconciliation Leon led the way into Morgan's grove, and by a winding path to the river. A great stone wall separated the grove from the river bank. The distance from the wall to the bank was less than half a dozen feet.

"May and I walked along with Rogers until we came to a break in the wall," said Leon. "She went through and we followed. It was cold and I had on a big overcoat. I spread this out on the ground and all three of us sat down. We were only a few feet from the edge of the river."

"May said she had a new trick with a rope."

"He laughed, May laughed, too, and drew out a piece of clothes line. Then she said she'd bet she could tie me so that I couldn't get loose."

"I'll bet you can't," I said.

"She tied my hands loosely and I broke away. She tried it again and I broke away again."

"Try it on him," I said.

"I'll bet you can't tie me," said Rogers."

"He was as strong as an ox. May tied him and tried to tie him tight."

but he just gave a heave and broke away. She tried it a second time, and he broke loose without any trouble. She was getting worried. She tried it a third time, and when he broke loose again I saw that she couldn't tie him."

"Let me do it," I told her.

"I took the rope—a piece of clothes line, I said to Rogers:

"Kneel down and put your hands behind you."

"He thought it was fun and knelt down. I tied his hands behind him and he struggled but could not get loose. His back was towards May."

"I gave her a signal and she drew the vial of chloroform and the handkerchief from her bosom. She poured a few drops on her handkerchief—not very much—and put her arms around his neck. Suddenly she drew his head back in her lap. The noise threw him on his hands which were behind him, so he was doubly helpless. Then she put the handkerchief to his nose. He spluttered. Suddenly she empties the vial on the handkerchief, completely saturating it. He began to struggle."

"May, what does this mean?" he asked, heaving his body. "What does it mean?"

"Jump on his legs," she said.

"I jumped on his legs to hold him. May had him gripped around the neck and pressed the handkerchief against his nose. His struggles were terrible. He threw me off as if I had been a kitten. He got one hand free and used it to help himself."

"But May clung to him and never once did the handkerchief get away from his nose. She had the grip of a tiger. He struggled and flung himself and her on the ground, and every time I came near him a heave of his legs or his free arm would throw me off."

"While he struggled, his breath was deeper. Suddenly he became more quiet, and in a moment he was limp. May clung to him, even after he was quiet, pressing the chloroform soaked handkerchief down over his face. When all was over she got up."

The body was rolled into the river. A note was left, purporting to have been written by Rogers, that he had drowned himself. Mrs. Rogers' unseemly haste in her efforts to collect the life insurance and other

12 YEAR OLD BOY

Falls in Love With Actress and Plans Big Robbery.

New Orleans, La., Dec. 8.—Because he fell in love with an actress in the stock company at one of the theatres here, Joseph Camulano made up a scheme to rob all the dry goods stores here, and as a result the twelve-year-old boy spent the day in jail and was only released after his mother had testified that his unlawful acts were only actuated by his love for the actress, and that he did not know the consequences of his action. The boy had been spending positions as cash boy at one store after another, and whenever he secured a large bill he would run out of the door instead of taking the account to the cashier's desk for change. All the money that he gained in this manner was spent in buying candy for the theatrical girl.

Kentucky Congressmen Get Good Places On Congressional Committees

Washington, Dec. 8.—Several members of the Kentucky delegation are slated for places upon good committees. Of the M. James the ranking democrat of committee on elections, No. 1, will probably be retained on that committee. Should the next house be democratic this would make Mr. James chairman of that committee.

Mr. James will also be a member of the committee on expenditures for the navy, and probably of the committee on banking and currency. Mr. Shirley will be a member of the committee of merchant marine and fisheries, as he is counted upon as a strong factor in the fight against the ship subsidy bill.

David H. Smith will probably be retained on the Judiciary committee. F. A. Hopkins, of the Tenth district, will be a member of the committee on invalid pensions, and may be made a member of the committee on agriculture. South Trimble may be put on the committee on agriculture. G. G. Gillette, it is said, is slated as member of the committee on insular affairs. A. O. Stanley will probably be on the committee on labor, and James M. Richardson the committee on printing.

Theatrical Notes

The Henderson Gleaner of yesterday says:

Ros Cecilia Shay, in the comic opera success "Paul Jones," gave a splendid performance at the Park Theatre Wednesday evening to an appreciative audience. The theme of the opera is based on Paul Jones, the celebrated maritime hero, which was splendidly taken by Miss Shay. Her support was good, and the costuming was richly appropriate and attractive. The music was of the best, and those who did not attend last evening's performance missed one of the best theatrical events of the season. During the second act Miss Shay rendered the Aida from Samson and Delilah.

"Buster Brown" Scores a Hit.

"Buster Brown," the comic supplement fame, loaded down with a brand new set of resolutions and accompanied by his pet dog, Tige, his companion in crime, will be the attraction at The Kentucky Monday, Dec. 11th, matinee and night.

Interposed with the pranks of the boy and dog are a succession of songs and dances, tumbling and musical drills that are very ably executed. One of the songs is on the familiar topic of "Resolved."

The Paraders Tuesday.

Miss Mabel Addington, the stately prima donna of the La Salle Theatre production, "The Paraders," which comes to The Kentucky Tuesday of next week, is one of the youngest leading soprano singers before the public. Although Miss Addington has not yet reached her twenty-first birthday, her voice rings out as sweetly and as true as a violin, and in the "Little Bo-Peep" and "Alameda Rose" numbers easily dominates the chorus and orchestra. This will be Miss Addington's last appearance in America in some time, as she goes to Paris to study for the grand opera stage in the spring.

Pretty Peggy Coming.

"Pretty Peggy," a four-act historical play of unusual excellence, with a well defined plot, a love story of pure heart interest, portraying the "ups and downs" of King Wolfling, blended with beautiful comedy, many intense situations and dramatic climaxes, will be presented at The Kentucky on Wednesday night. Miss Jane Corcoran, who was seen here in "At the Old Cross Roads," and other first-class attractions, is the star.

Small Crowd Out.

"Hans and Nix" had a small crowd at The Kentucky last night, and those who staid at home need not worry over the fact. While the attraction is probably worth the money, it being a cheap show, it was not up to expectations, apparently.

Matinee Tomorrow.

"My Friend from Arkansas" will be the bill at the Kentucky theater tomorrow afternoon and night. It is a play that will please anyone, and has received good notices wherever it has been presented.

After Big Stars.

It is understood that Sarah Bernhardt and Mrs. Fiske will both play at Evansville, Ind., next month. Manager Thomas Roberts will investigate and if it proves to be correct, will make an effort to get them for Paducah.

Good Opera Tonight.

No better production will be seen at The Kentucky this season than the celebrated naval comic opera "Paul Jones," which has for its leading part the great American hero of that name after whom the opera was named. In the opera Jones appears to a decided advantage, being portrayed as the very highest type man, instead of as a pirate, as some maintain he was.

The opera is staged with magnificent scenery and settings and is presented by a good company. Rose Cecilia Shay, whose fame as a grand opera singer is second to none appears in the title role, having been induced to forsake grand for comic opera. At the Kentucky tonight.

WORSER THAN A CANCER.

A cancer means death. But there are conditions of life worse even than death. Cancerous ulcers can at least be dressed, and the foul discharges disposed of satisfactorily, but when the mucous membrane becomes inflamed by Catarrh there is no opportunity of dressing the parts.

The sufferer, in the first stages, before the ulcer becomes chronic, can secure a quiet state of cleanliness by a frequent use of his handkerchief, but the dreadful "dropping down" into the throat finally sets in, and the victim is absolutely helpless.

PORTER'S CA-TARRH-O immediately relieves all discharges, both outward through the nose, and inward into the throat. A single box usually cures, and the first application relieves the dreadful "dropping down." No cocaine, no opiates, no narcotics. CA-TARRH-O simply cures by its antiseptic properties. Price, 50c. Postage prepaid. For sale everywhere.

Missed the Train Home Yesterday and Again Today.

A small boy, Jasper Krehner, by name, from every indication a product of the "fall and winter," attracted a great deal of attention at the I. C. passenger depot last night, just after the fast train from Louisville to Memphis pulled out of the station. He was crying, and his wails could be heard a block.

Officers Hurley and Singery were attracted by the boy's crying and learned he had been left at the depot by the unexpected departure of the accommodation train which had left an hour and a half before the fast train. The boy had come to Paducah with his father John Krehner, a farmer of Krebs Station on the Fulton district of the I. C. and when he started to return home yesterday afternoon, left the train. He went into the depot and while he was investigating the pictures on the wall, the train pulled out and left him.

Officer Hurley engaged a room for the boy at the I. C. hotel across from the depot and today the boy missed the morning local and had to be cared for by Haggeman Wm. Flowers, of the I. C.

The little fellow is only 10 years old and had not been to town very often. He appreciated the kindness shown him, and will be sent home this afternoon on the accommodation train.

Boys Attempt to Burn House.

Hustonsville, Ky., Dec. 8.—Tuesday night a small frame building on the premises of Mrs. Brown was found to be on fire. This was soon put out, and it was then ascertained that coal oil had been thrown on the roof. Bloodhounds from Nicholasville were sent for. They were soon on the trail, and in a short time Tom Owsley, a colored boy of 14 years, was captured. He has made a confession and implicated two others. The community is greatly wrought up over this attempt to burn the town.

No Secret About It.

It is no secret, that for Cuts, Burns, Ulcers, Fever Sores, Sore Eyes, Hoils, etc., nothing is so effective as Bucklen's Arnica Salve. "It didn't take long to cure a bad sore I had, and it is all O. K. for sore eyes," writes D. L. Gregory, of Hope, Tex., 25c at W. B. McPherson's drug store.

BUILDING UP KENTUCKY.

The Louisville Herald, in commenting on The Sun's recent remarks about building up Kentucky, and advocating the introduction of
as much outside capital as possible, has the following to say:The Kentuckian who would object to outside capital and population coming into the state, hardly deserves consideration. It is outside capital and population that have built up every state in the union. The communities that live unto themselves are those which make no progress, because unable to develop the resources they have at hand. In slavery times Kentucky was not a mineral producing state, its labor produced enough from the soil to enrich a few planters and give sustenance to the remainder of the population, but comfort and wealth were not as widespread as today.The abolition of slavery and the demands of an ever increasing population all over the country have necessitated the opening up of latent sources of wealth. The products of the soil have had to be multiplied, the forest reserves drawn upon, the mineral deposits opened up. Never could these things have been done but for outside capital and population coming to the aid of domestic resources."Kentucky for Kentuckians" we take to mean a better, richer, happier Kentucky for all its people. Everybody and anything contributing to that end should be welcome. The very worst foe of Kentucky is the self-styled Kentuckian who would make this a hermit state, limiting its output of forest, mill, field and mine, closing its gates against money to stimulate and remunerate labor, denying homes to desirable people from other states and countries.
New York is today the first state in the union because of the opening and the compensation she gave free European labor, because her doors were always wide open for Canadian immigrants, of whom she has thousands within her borders, and because she has given fullest opportunity and protection to foreign capital.But for slavery, Virginia had been all that New York is, and even more,
for she had not lost West Virginia.
The progress of a free Virginia would have developed Kentucky amazingly.
But there is yet ample time. The future is ours. Let us seize on it and give true significance to the often misunderstood and sometimes much abused term, "Kentucky for Kentuckians."It is suggested that the McCracken county jail be moved. To do this,
it will be advisable, if not necessary,
to also move the county court house.
This has been suggested before. The jail probably could not be located where it would satisfy everybody, but it should either be placed in the suburbs, or "in the business center" where the domestic life of the people would not be interfered with. In many cities the jail is in the heart of the business section, where it looksas any other building, and in the rush of business no one ever knows it is there so far as inconvenience is concerned. It has been suggested that the county buy the school property at Fifth and Kentucky, and build a new court house there.
There is ample room for both court house and jail, without, of course, a yard. In up-to-date cities, however, the majority of court houses and jails have no yard. It is only a matter of time until the present court house yard here will have to be used for something else, or at least only a short time until it should be used for something else, and if such a course is to be considered now is the time to thresh out the subject and decide what is to be done. There is an urgent necessity for a new jail now, and the old court house cannot last much longer. It has been made tenable only by costly repairs during the past twenty years, and is now too small.If all the charter amendments and changes in state laws suggested by the various papers and people over the state are adopted by the next legislature, the latter not only will have no time in which to elect a United States senator, but will in addition leave a mass of laws that the court of appeals would probably not finish constructing, invalidating and denouncing for the next ten years.O O O O O O O O O

he believed the sentiment of the po-he should continue in office. ViceGreen river packets are doing only a light business on account of high water. Kentucky river is on a boom, having risen more than twenty feet.

Boatmen are unusually busy. The United States dredge boats, that were sent below Louisville for the purpose of cutting out the channel, have been forced to suspend operations on account of the high water. The fleet is tied up near Provy, where it will likely remain until the river falls sufficiently to allow resumption of operations. Packets are suffering to some extent from reasons of the coal famine. For various reasons, the coal banks along the Indiana shore above Owensboro where the boats have ordinarily obtained their fuel, cannot supply demands. Indications are that the coal is exhausted at the Cincinnati mine, while there is a shortage of miners at Troy. The tugboats are carrying a large load of coal and tomorrow night of the Paducah Trav-likely recommend the three upstairs rooms in the building owned by Mrs.

up for a reasonable sum until the club could afford to get into a build-intention of the club. If the club and be ready for use in a few weeks.

THE MOUNT CASE IS SET FORWARD

Judge Reed Gives Defense Over a Week to Get Witness.

Jailer Fayette Jones Submitted His Case and Was Fined $100—Other Court Cases.

NEWS OF OTHER COURTS

The case against Willis Mount, charged with the murder of Willis Nutty, was this morning set over until Tuesday week, the 14th day of the present term and the 12th day of the month in order that the defense get time to take depositions of witnesses who are absent.

Mount's attorneys filed a motion for continuance on account of the absence of several witnesses, one in particular, a man named Curdin and in order that the case not be continued again, Judge Reed gave the attorneys over a week in which to secure Curdin and other witnesses' depositions.

Jailer L. L. Jones who was indicted at the last sitting of the grand jury for alleged neglect of official duty in failing to keep Willis Mount in jail, submitted his case to the court and was fined $100 and costs.

Leibel and Bauer, who were fined for nuisance, filed a motion and reasons for a new trial.

A judgment for divorce was filed in the case of Robert against Addie Avant.

The demurrer to the indictment in the case against Ledford and Grasty, who conduct a loan investment company, charging them with doing a pawn brokers' business without a license, was sustained but the defendants held on bond. A technically in the indictment caused this action.

Morris Henley, colored, was fined $25 and costs for gaming.

The demurrers to indictments in the cases against John M. Day and Thos. O. Hayden, for running a pawn brokers' business without a license, were sustained.

Sam Leibel and A. V. Bauer were fined $115 for maintaining a nuisance in the way of a saloon at 9th and Washington streets.

Chas. Denker, was fined $50 and costs for selling liquor to a minor. Five similar charges against him were dismissed.

Alonzo Pollard was fined $50 and costs for cutting Marion Lucas in sudden heat and passion.

Lindo Murphy filed a motion with reasons for a new trial. He was given one year for obtaining money by false pretenses.

Grand Jury Reports.

The grand jury reported three indictments this morning. They are:

Fred Crossen, colored, maliciously shooting John Williams.

Levi Chihoun, colored, false swearing in police court.

E. Conklin, white, stealing an overcoat and selling it for $1, claiming the coat belongs to him.

The minutes of the examining court in the case against John Williams, colored, charged with malicious shooting, were returned marked "dismissed."

County Court.

Gip Husband, special commissioner, to F. M. Fisher, for $290, property in Mechanicsburg.

Demurrer Tomorrow.

Tomorrow morning the demurrer of the defendant in the $25,000 damage suit of Attorney J. M. Worten against the Paducah Register comes up for argument at Smithland. Recently Mr. Worten filed this suit in the Livingston circuit court, claiming that he had been maliciously slandered. Judge James Breathitt, of Hopkinsville, who has been employed by Mr. Worten to help him fight the case, is here today going over points in the case. The defendant is represented by Attorneys Hendrick, Miller and Marble. The criminal docket of the Livingston court was completed yesterday.

Transferred to Penitentiary.

A letter received from James Ezell states that he has been transferred to the state prison at Allegheny City, Pa., to begin his life sentence for murder. His attorney, Hon. Hal Corbett, of Paducah, secured a commutation of the death sentence for the young man, who formerly lived at Mayfield.

Marshall County Case.

The injunction suit of John C. Garner against Sheriff David Reeves, of Marshall county, which was to have come up in the McClellan circuit court today was postponed until January 4. Attorney L. K. Taylor was in the railroad injunction case at Louisville and had to go there today.

This injunction is the case wherein the plaintiff seeks to have an injunction issued restraining the sheriff from collecting $1 tax for road purposes. It is a test case and if the plaintiff wins it will mean the loss of a large sum to the county.

It is alleged that the tax of $1.50 is already being paid and that the act of the fiscal court in adding another dollar was illegal as the law is that a tax of not exceeding this amount can not be levied. Several citizens are joined together in the fight and selected the name of Mr. Garner.

Police Court.

There were but four defendants, all colored, in police court this morning. Three were charged with felonies. One was dismissed and three held over.

Mary Robinson, charged with breaking into Mattie Love's house and stealing some wearing apparel, was held over to the grand jury.

Cecilia Daniel, charged with stealing $40 from Annie Coleman, was dismissed.

Herman Clements, charged with false swearing and obtaining money by false pretenses, was held on both charges.

Billy Buckner, charged with stealing lap robes, was held over for petty larceny.

To Sell Schwab Stock.

This morning an order of sale was filed in the M. Schwab bankrupt matter. The sale was ordered for the 19th and will be at public auction. Attorney E. W. Bagby is trustee in the case and will sell the stock. The stock is estimated to be worth about $3,000.

Paducahans in Circuit Court.

The case against Mike Caldwell, of this city, charged with not accounting for some money he had collected for an insurance company, was continued in the circuit court this week. He was represented by Attorney C. C. Grassham.

All three cases against Dr. Neville, a dentist of this city, who was accused of violating the law by not depositing his license in Livingston county before he practiced his profession there, were won by the defendant. There was a test case of one and the other two were dismissed. The contention of the defendant was that he was not compelled to file his license or a copy thereof in the county. He was also represented by Attorney C. C. Grassham.

Small Suit Filed.

The following suits were filed in circuit court today:

A $1 deal against M. W. Williams, for an alleged note of $141.86 with interest.

THE NADINE GIRL

GIVE YOUR STOMACH
A NICE VACATION.Don't Do It By Starving It Either—
Let a Substitute Do the Work.

The old adage, "All work and no play makes Jack a dull boy," applies just as well to the stomach, one of the most important organs of the human system, as it does to the man himself.

If your stomach is worn out and rebels against being taxed beyond its limit, the only sensible thing you can do is to give it a rest. Employ a substitute for a short time and see if it will not more than repay you in results.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are a willing and most efficient substitute. They themselves digest every bit of food in the stomach in just the same way that the stomach itself would, were it well. They contain all the essential elements that the gastric juice and other digestive fluids of the stomach contain and actually not just the same and do just the same work as the stomach would do, were the stomach well and sound. They, therefore, relieve the stomach, just as one workman relieves another and permit it to rest and recuperate and regain its normal health and strength.

This "vacation" idea was suggested by the father of a prominent lawyer in Chicago. Read what he says: "I was engaged in the most momentous undertaking of my life in bringing about the condition of certain great interests that meant much to me as well as my client. It was not the work of days, but of months; I was working night and day almost when at a very critical time my stomach went completely back on me. The undue mental strain brought it about and hurried up what would have happened later on."

"What I ate I had to literally force down and that was a source of misery, as I had a sour stomach much of the time. My head ached, I was sluggish and began to lose my ambition to carry out my undertaking. It looked pretty gloomy for me and I confided my plight to one of my clients. He had been cured by Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets and at once went down to a drug store and brought a box up to the office."

"I had not taken a quarter of that box before I found that they would do all the work my stomach ever did; and as a rest or vacation was out of the question for me, I determined to give my stomach a vacation. I kept right on taking the tablets and braced up and went ahead with my work with renewed vigor, as just so much as I ever did and carried out that undertaking to a successful issue. I feel that I have Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets to thank for saving me the handsomest fee I ever received as well as my reputation and last but not least my stomach."

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are for sale by all druggists at 50 cents a box.

HORSES NOW.

Are Being Killed and Skinned for the Hide.

A report reached here today that a fine young horse was killed on Owen's Island, across from Mechanicsburg, Wednesday last and was skinned for the hide.

There has been four or five cows killed and skinned in Paducah lately but this is the first case of a horse being killed for the hide.

It could not be learned to whom the horse belonged but it is said to have been three years old and worth over a hundred dollars. The animal had been killed by crushing its head and the carcass was found by its owner the following morning.

Although the detectives and local policemen have been working on the cow cases they have been unable to get a clue. It is a hard matter to identify a hide in a large number, for so many are alike.

CAN SAVE MUCH.

AUDITOR KIRKLAND THINKS TAX
BILL LAW SHOULD BE CHANGED.The City Has to Pay Out a Great Deal Annually in Useless
Advertising.

City Auditor Alex Kirkland thinks that representatives of cities of the second class now in session at Lexington should decide on a charter amendment, or if this be not the proper course, to have a new law passed by the legislature which will save cities of a great deal of expense in the long run. This is relative to advertising delinquent tax bills.

"The city pays a big price annually for public printing, and one of the biggest items is the delinquent tax list," he said. "The printer makes a great deal more money out of this class of work and if the city could have the power to strike off bills which are advertised because of a necessary formality, it would save a great deal in the long run in advertising expenses."

"To my certain knowledge there are dozens of bills advertised annually, year after year, which will never be paid and which are causing the city expense in advertising. For instance I remember 15 inches of ground between the Watts-Given property and Lanning & Jackson, this is the style of the bill as advertised, which has been in dispute 15 or 16 years, and if you will figure up the space taken by the advertising of this one piece of property, the taxes on which have never been paid, you will see it will amount to a great deal since the first advertising was done. This is only one item, too. I remember a piece of property assessed to a woman who was adjudged insane years ago. The city made a street through the property, demolishing a small shack on the path. This property was advertised year after year and is still being advertised. The bill for advertising on this one piece will amount to a great deal, and my idea is to have some law passed by which the city can strike off bills of this class and curtail expenses in advertising them. If we investigate and secure a list of the total bills of this kind, I venture to say that the bills for advertising will amount to hundreds of dollars, and it will be an economical move for the committee to decide on some way to remedy this, either by appointing some one to decide the ownership; to allow the city to confiscate the property, or to institute regular proceedings, sell the property and collect the tax debt."

BROKEN LEG FOR DOG.

Stranger Stopped and Tied It Up
On Street.

A great deal of attention was attracted at Third and Broadway about 7 o'clock this morning by the action of a stranger towards a dog which had been run over by a wagon and then left with a foreleg broken.

The dog became confused in trying to elude a beer wagon, express wagon, and street car and was run over by the beer wagon. The leg was broken above the first joint. The stranger secured some wire and making a crude splint, tied his silk handkerchief about the wire and bound this with string, making a very good dressing for the injured member.

The dog seemed to appreciate the kindness and whined gratefully when the operation was finished and the canine turned to go its way. The dog did not seem to be a stray dog but to have lost its owner.

MADE HIS PEACE

Jack Wants to Do Better, and Apologized to City Hall Officials.

Jack Whitesides, known as "Three Fingers Jack," paid an unexpected visit to the city hall yesterday for the purpose of apologizing to the officers and officials about the hull against whom he had formerly entertained ill feelings.

"I have come here feeling a new man," Jack explained to City Clerk Henry Bailey, "and have come especially to invite you all to the revival services and to apologize to several officials against whom I have made slight remarks. I feel that I am a better man and want to love my enemies as well as my friends."

"Yes, I have been apparently converted several times prior to this, but I only imagined it then; now I am sure I have got the real thing, and hereafter I shall live a different life than that you have known me to live."

Jack was very much in earnest about it. He expounded truths in abundance to the several officials who gathered about him to hear his remarks.

Brewster's Millions

CHAPTER XXXII.

"T'S up to Jones now," kept running through Brewster's brain as he drove off to keep his appointment with Peggy Gray. "The million is gone—all gone. I'm as poor as Job's turkey. It's up to Jones, but I don't see how he can decide against me. He insisted on making a pumper of me, and he can't have the heart to throw me down now. But what if he should take it into his head to be ugly? I wonder if I could break the will—I wonder if I could beat him out in court."

Peggy was waiting for him. Her cheeks were flushed with a fever. She had caught from him the mad excitement of the occasion.

"Come, Peggy," he exclaimed eagerly. "This is our last holiday. Let's be merry. We can forget it tomorrow if you like when we begin all over again, but maybe it will be worth remembering." He assisted her to the seat, and then leaped up beside her. "We're off!" he cried, his voice quivering.

"It is absolute madness, dear," she said, but her eyes were sparkling with the joy of recklessness. Away went the trap and the two light horses. Mrs. Gray turned from a window in the house with tears in her eyes. To her troubled mind they were driving off into utter darkness.

"The queerest looking man came to the house to see you this afternoon, Monty," said Peggy. "He wore a beard, and he made me think of Remington's cowboy."

"What was his name?"

"He told the maid it did not matter. I saw him as he walked away, and he looked very much a man. He said he would come tomorrow if he did not find you downtown tonight. Don't you recognize him from the description?"

"Not at all. Can't imagine who he is."

"Monty," she said after a moment's painful reflection. "He—he couldn't have been a—"

"I know what you mean, an officer sent up to attend his belongings or something of the sort. No, dear; I give you my word of honor I do not owe a dollar in the world." Then he recalled his peculiar indebtedness to Braden and Gardner. "Except one or two very small personal obligations," he added hastily. "Don't worry about it, dear; we're out for a good time, and we must make the most of it. First we drive through the park, then we dine at Merry's."

"But we must dress for that, dear," she cried. "And the chaperon?"

He turned very red when she spoke of dressing. "I'm ashamed to confess it, Peggy, but I have no other clothes than these I'm wearing now. Don't look so hurt, dear. I'm going to leave an order for new evening clothes to-morrow if I have the time. And about the chaperon. People won't be talking before to-morrow, and by that time—"

"No, Monty, Merry's is out of the question. We can't go there," she said decisively.

"Oh, Peggy! That spoils everything," he cried in deep disappointment.

"It isn't fair to me, Monty. Everybody would know us, and every tongue would wag. They would say: 'There are Monty Brewster and Margaret Gray. Spending his last few dollars on her.' You wouldn't have them think that?"

He saw the justice in her protest. "A quiet little dinner in some out of the way place would be joyous," she added persuasively.

"You're right, Peggy, you're always right. You see, I'm so used to spending money by the handful that I don't know how to do it any other way. I believe I'll let you carry the pocket-book after tomorrow. Let me think. I know a nice little restaurant downtown. We'll go there and then to the theater. Dan DeMille and his wife are to be in my box, and we're all going up to Pettigill's studio afterward. I'm to give the Little Sons a farewell supper. If my calculations don't go wrong that will be the end of the faint and we'll go home happy."

At 11 o'clock Pettigill's studio opened its doors to the Little Sons and their guests, and the last "Dutch lunch" was soon under way. Brewster had paid for it early in the evening, and when he sat down at the head of the table there was not a penny in his pockets. A year ago at the same place and at the same hour he and the Little Sons were having a birthday feast. A million dollars came to him on that night. Tonight he was poorer by far than on the other occasion, but he expected a little gift on the new anniversary.

Around the board besides the nine Little Sons sat six guests, among them the DeMilles, Peggy Gray and Mary Valentine. Nipper Harrison was the only absent Little Son, and his health was proposed by Brewster almost before the echoes of the toast to the bride and groom died away.

Interruption came earlier on this occasion than it did that night a year ago. Ellis did not deliver his message to Brewster until 3 o'clock in the morning, but the A. D. T. boy who rang the bell at Pettigill's a year later handed him a telegram before 12 o'clock.

"Congratulations are coming in, old man," said DeMille as Monty looked fearfully at the little envelope the boy had given him.

birthday. Monty. It saves time and expense to your friends."

"Read it aloud," said Suzy Smith. "Two to one it's from Nipper Harrison," cried Pettigill.

Brewster's fingers trembled, he knew not why, as he opened the envelope. There was the most desolate feeling in his heart, the most ghastly premonition that ill news had come in this last hour. He drew forth the telegram and slowly, painfully, unfolded it. No one could have told by his expression that he felt almost that he was reading his death warrant. It was from Grunt & Hupley and evidently had been following him about town for two or three hours. The lawyers had filed it at 5:30 o'clock.

He read it at a glance, his eyes burning, his heart freezing.

Come to office immediately. Will wait all night for you if necessary. Jones has disappeared, and there is absolutely no trace of him. GRANT & HUPLEY.

Brewster sat as one paralyzed, absolutely no sign of emotion in his face. The others began to clamor for the contents of the telegram, but his tongue was stiff and motionless, his ears deaf. Every drop of blood in his body was stilled by the shock, every sense given him by the Creator was centered upon eleven words in the handwriting of a careless telegraph operator. "Jones has disappeared, and there is absolutely no trace of him."

"Jones has disappeared!" Those were the words, plain and terrible in their clearness, tremulous in their brutality. Slowly the rest of the message began to urge its claims upon his brain. "Come to our office immediately" and "Will wait all night" battled for recognition. He was calm because he had not the power to express an emotion. How he maintained control of himself afterward he never knew.

Some powerful, kindly force asserted itself, coming to his relief with the timeliness of a genie. Gradually it began to dawn upon him that the others were waiting for him to read the message aloud. He was not sure that a sound would come forth when he opened his lips to speak, but the tones were steady, natural and cold as steel.

"I am sorry I can't tell you about this," he said, so gravely that his hearers were silenced. "It is a business matter of such vital importance that I must ask you to excuse me for an hour or so. I will explain everything tomorrow. Please don't be uneasy. If you will do me the honor to grace the board of an absent host I'll be most grateful. It is imperative that I go and sit once. I promise to return in an hour." He was standing, his knees un-

Heart Weakness

The action of the heart depends upon the heart nerves and muscles. When from any cause they become weak or exhausted, and fail to furnish sufficient power, the heart flutters, palpitates, skips beats; and in its effort to keep up its work, causes pain and distress, such as smothering spells, short breath, fainting, pain around heart, arm and shoulders. The circulation is impeded, and the entire system suffers from lack of nourishment.

Dr. Miles' Heart Cure makes a heart strong and vigorous by strengthening these nerves and muscles.

"I had palpitation and pain around my heart, and the doctors said it was incurable. I don't believe it now, for after taking six bottles of Dr. Miles' Heart Cure, three bottles of the Nervine and three boxes of the Nerve and Liver Pills I am entirely cured, and feel better than I have for five years. I want you to know that your medicines cured me. It relieved me from the first dose, and I kept right on till the pain in my chest was gone, and I kept on feeling better even after I quit taking it." JOHN H. SHERMAN, Belding, Mich.

Dr. Miles' Heart Cure is sold by your druggist, who will guarantee that the first bottle will benefit. If it fails he will refund your money.

GOOD HEALTH IS ESSENTIAL

TO EVERY FORM OF USEFULNESS.

Will the sale of Payno's Remedies reach the same astonishing figures in Paducah as in other cities?

This is the question being asked by people who have closely followed the work of Payno in this city, and apparently the answer is being found in the record the remedies are making.

Although it has been several weeks since the preparations were first introduced in Paducah, the public interest is increasing and crowds in which almost every class of citizens is represented visit Smith & Nagel's drug store daily to talk with Payno.

What is a Dollar?

Compared With Good Health? Mrs. Grinnell called and expressed her thanks and said: "For ten years I have been a great sufferer from Catarrh. My sense of smell was gone, I could not rest well at night, and was always tired when I got up in the morning. I had a dull, heavy headache. My head was stopped up and the mucus from the head dropped into the throat, and I would cough up great chunks of phlegm. I used one bottle of the Payno's New Discovery and I was surprised at the result. My head was cleared at once, my sense of smell was restored as if by magic and my sleep is now sound and refreshing."

Not only do people tell Payno about these cases, but each mail brings written statements of the character to Smith & Nagel's drug store, and it is said that the remedies are becoming as popular throughout the state as they are in this city.

stiff as iron.

"Is it anything serious?" asked DeMille.

"What! Has anything happened?" came in halting, frightened tones from Peggy.

"It concerns me alone, and it is purely of a business nature. Seriously, I can't deny going for another minute. It is vital. In an hour I'll return. Peggy, don't be worried—don't be distressed about me. I'm on and have a good time, everybody, and you'll find me the jolliest fellow of all when I come back. It's 12 o'clock. I'll be here by 1 on the 23d of September."

"Let me go with you," pleaded Peggy tremulously as she followed him into the hallway.

"I must go alone," he answered. "Don't worry, little woman. It will be all right."

His kiss sent a thrill to the very bottom of Peggy's heart.

WANT JAIL MOVED

PROPERTY OWNERS THINK IT SHOULD BE TAKEN FROM THEIR MIDST.

The Only Way to Move It, However, Would Be by Moving the Court House Also.

Since the proposition to build a new county jail is to be broached some of the property owners surrounding the court square have suggested that the jail be removed to some other part of the city, out from the residence district. This question may be taken up when fiscal court meets the 18th.

Dr. J. T. Redlick, who lives across the street, west of the square, said the jail really should be on the river front or somewhere on island creek, where it could be drained into a natural water course and be kept in a sanitary condition. Then another advantage the county would have is that a rock pile or work house could be used to work the prisoners.

The principal objection to the jail's present location is that in the summer time it is in plain and close view of every residence surrounding the square, except those on the north side. The people have to put up with prisoners singing, playing musical instruments, and witness all kinds of criminals taken to and from the jail.

Probably the fiscal court would not see the wisdom in such a move, however, for the jail property should be in close proximity to the county court house, otherwise the courts held there would be put to a great deal of delay in getting to trial when a prisoner's case is called. The only practical way the jail could be moved would be by moving the court house, also.

Coughing Spell Caused Death.

"Harry Duckwell, aged 25 years, choked to death early yesterday morning at his home, in the presence of his wife and child. He contracted a slight cold a few days ago and paid but little attention to it. Yesterday morning he was seized with a fit of coughing which continued for some time. His wife sent for physician but before he could arrive, another coughing spell came on, and Duckwell died from suffocation."—St. Louis Globe-Democrat, Dec. 1st, 1904.

Notice.

The system of credit has been so shamefully abused by the public in the matter of collections of "insurance premiums" that the local agents of Paducah, Ky., have been forced to adopt the following rule with reference to the collection of premiums. Recognizing that the fire insurance business is essentially a cash business by reason of the policy contracts, and as all agents are required by the rules of their companies, to settle promptly each month for the previous month's business, we are, therefore, forced to ask of our patrons prompt payment of all premiums and in order to do so, we, the undersigned, hereby mutually agree and adopt and pledge ourselves to faithfully carry out, in the collection of premiums the following rules, to-wit:

"That we notify our patrons, the public generally, through the daily press, each agent signing the notice, that commencing on the first day of January, 1906, all policies are due and payable when the insurance is effected or upon delivery of policy in person or by mail."

CHANGE NEEDED

IN THE MANNER OF ELECTING
MEMBERS OF SCHOOL BOARDS.

It is suggested That the Legislature
Amend the Present Law in This Particular.

Supt. C. M. Leib, of the Paducah public schools, thinks that it would not be amiss for the members of the coming legislature to investigate the advisability of changing the present law relative to electing members of boards of education.

Supt. Leib says that it is the law in most of the states with whose school laws he is familiar, to elect less than a majority of the members each year. Under the charter that now governs Paducah, six are elected every year, making half of the board, unless they have served before, entirely inexperienced men, but, nevertheless, with as much power in the regulation of the schools as the six experienced members, and able to block anything tending towards the improvement of the schools should they desire to do so, although there is small probability that any of them would. Still, it is against menacing possibilities that a people have to provide in their laws, hence, it is believed that it would be better for the schools of the state if four members were elected every year to serve three years, thus always having a working majority in the board, of experienced members.

In some cities there are four members, and one is elected every year. Where there are six, two are elected every year, etc. Under the present charter there are twelve trustees and they serve two years each, six being elected every year. Supt. Leib thinks that the next legislature would make no mistake in duly investigating the expediency of the change.

MRS. ROGERS HANGED

dramatic circumstances led to her arrest and indictment. Perham confessed and was sent to Windsor prison for life. Mrs. Rogers was found guilty on December 22, 1903, and she was sentenced to be hanged on the first Friday in last February. She was thrice reprieved by Governor Bell, the second reprieve expiring last June, when counsel for the woman made an appeal to the United States federal court to have certain legal questions reviewed by the supreme court at Washington. The third reprieve expired today.

Mary Rogers was 22 years old and little more than 19 when she killed her husband.

The Governor Unmoved.

White River Junction, Vt., Dec. 8.—Governor Bell turned a deaf ear to all the appeals for clemency for Mrs. Mary Rogers this morning, and declared she must hang this afternoon. Miss Jessie M. Portion, of the Cincinnati Post, presented a petition signed by forty thousand people of Ohio, Kentucky, West Virginia and other states, but did not move the governor.

Kentucky's Experience.

Owingsville, Ky., Dec. 8.—So far as known here there has never been but one woman hanged in the state of Kentucky.

In 1817 a man named Gillespie is said to have accused his wife of infidelity. It is also stated that she assisted by the man who had caused her husband to make the charge, murdered Gillespie.

At the time there were many sensational stories afloat as to just how the murder had been committed, but they were never brought to a satisfactory termination.

At the trial Mrs. Gillespie was adjudged guilty, and paid the penalty with her life. The execution took place where the Owingsville and Mt. Sterling turnpike forks. The judge and jury were strongly censured.

Some Seasonable Holiday Suggestions

OUR great Christmas stocks are at their best just now, and while this excellent weather for shopping continues an early call affords you complete selections, and you avoid the rush of the last days before Christmas. You have often heard women say that it is so difficult to select gifts for men that they really enjoy and appreciate. Like everything else that seems difficult, it is merely a question of knowing how. Men are practical creatures and care little for fanciful gifts that women enjoy. Hence make the present you intend to give your father, brother, husband or sweetheart something of a practical nature. Below we make some happy suggestions along this line of thought where your dollars will do double duty if you buy them here:

Smoking jacket Muffler Silk suspenders
Manicure set Cane Umbrella Collar and cuff box
Silk and linen handkerchiefs Suit case Bath robe
Dressing gown Gloves Overcoat Underwear
Military Brushes Neckwear Fancy vest
Hosiery Full dress protector Silk hat Opera hat

I. C. FIRE FIGHTERS

Have Received Additional Equipment for Shop Department.

The local I. C. shops private fire department has received a new consignment of nozzles, 12 in number, the nozzles arriving yesterday.

They are large and about the same pattern as the nozzles used by the city fire department. This gives the railroad private fire department an equipment to be envied.

The I. C. private department has four reels each carrying 1,250 feet of good hose. This makes a total of 5,000 feet of hose. The I. C. takes every precaution against fires and the expense it has gone to in equipping the shops with fire fighting apparatus is no small item.

Hope For Consumptives.

Hope for the consumptive is held out on every side, says the Lexington Leader. Sanatoriums for them are springing up to their cure in every desirable nook and corner, and the cities are using and preparing accommodations for them, fitted with all the accessories needed for the relief and ultimate cure of the victims upon whom the Great White Plague has laid its terrible hands. But other victims have set out to cure themselves, some of them making decided successes of their efforts.

Mary Spitznauer, of New Haven, Conn., three years ago was an object of loving sympathy from her friends, who considered her a hopeless invalid, claimed by consumption. Yet she came out from New Haven the other day and carried off the first prize, together with all the highest honors, at the national physical development contest for grace, poise, strength and pretty figure; for perfect health, which includes a clear skin and a good complexion; and for physical endurance, which includes supremacy in the athletic games.

She developed herself in every way by athletic exercises persistently kept up in a regular way, steady and conservatively, with abundant use of fresh air, and gradually but surely health came back to her, and stays with her. There is surely help for the consumptive if he will only heed the directions and keep up the fight until victory is reached.

Mexican Consul at Louisville.
Louisville, Ky., Dec. 8.—Horace G. Braunin, a well known attorney, has been selected by the Mexican government as consul at Louisville. Through the influence of the board of trade and because of the large propositions to which business between Louisville and the Mexican government has increased, Mexico has agreed to establish a consulate here.

A handsome salary to be paid in fees has also been provided for him in addition to an office and other necessities for performing his duties. Mr. Braunin has traveled a good deal and speaks and writes Spanish fluently.

Want Union-Built Capitol.

Covington, Ky., Dec. 8.—Steps toward having the new state capitol at Frankfort a union-built structure were taken by the Kentucky state Federation of Labor. Thomas Dooley, general organizer of the Plumbers' International union, and Charles H. Sliener brought the matter before the Federation, which adopted a resolution instructing the president to send immediately a telegram to Gov. Beckham, requesting that he see that none but union labor contractors are engaged, and also requesting the building committee to see that the plumbing and other material and all workmen employed are strictly union.

Trigg County Wedding.

Cadiz, Ky., Dec. 8.—Mr. and Mrs. William R. Wilson, of Golden Pond, this county, have issued cards announcing the marriage of their daughter Miss Gertrude to Mr. John R. Vinson, of this place, at their home on next Tuesday, Dec. 12, Mr.

Vinson is bookkeeper and assistant cashier at the Cadiz bank.

A Bold Man—Wants Dog Tax.

Frankfort, Ky., Dec. 8.—Representative Ed Cronn, of Bullitt county, was here to urge the governor to enforce in his message what is known as the "Croan dog tax law." Cronn is said to be the only man in Kentucky that ever urged the passage of a dog tax law and was re-elected to the legislature.
